DETAILED ACTION

1. The response filed on December 9, 2010 to the restriction requirement of November 9, 2010 has been received. Applicant has elected Group I, claims 1-30, and the species of PIK3CA helical domain, stool sample, substitution mutation, and mutation G1633A for examination. Because Applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out any errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP 818.03(a)). Claims 1-65 are pending. Claims 31-65 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner under 35 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to non-elected inventions. ALL species have been rejoined for examination. Claims 1-30 are currently under prosecution.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 states a method comprising the step of "determining a non-synonymous, intragenic mutation in a PIK3CA coding sequence in the body sample." The claim is grammatically unclear because the claim does not indicate what is determined. Examiner suggests amending the claim to indicate that the presence of the mutation is determined, i.e., "determining the presence of a non-synonymous, intragenic mutation.." Similarly, the conclusion of claim 1 should clarify what was determined- presence or absence. Examiner suggests, for example, "identifying the human as likely to have cancer if a non-synonymous, intragenic mutation in PIK3CA coding sequence is present in the body sample."

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2, 13, and 17 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4 and 13-23 of copending Application No. 12/512,585. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant and copending application are claiming common subject matter. The claims of both applications are drawn to assessing cancer in a blood or stool body sample from a cancer patient comprising determining the presence of a mutation in PIK3CA gene in the sample, determining that a normal sample does not have the mutation, wherein PIK3CA is a gene frequently mutated in human cancer but not normal tissue.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

4. Conclusion: No claim is allowed. The closest prior art appears to be US Patent 7,670,767, Shayesteh et al, filed August 1997. Shayesteh et al teach detecting PIK3CA gene amplification in biological samples for cancer diagnosis (col. 8, lines 16-21; col. 10, lines 9-22; Example 2). Shayesteh et al do not teach or suggest determining the presence of a mutation in PIK3CA or identify cancer based on the presence of a mutation in PIK3CA.
